Oregon Heritage Grant Recipient: Digitization Project Update

Oregon Heritage Grant: Digitization Project Update

Our digitization project made possible by an Oregon Heritage Grant continues to "march" on. The records from the Oregon Historical Society (OHS), 1958-2005, have all be reviewed and organized for actual digitization and the records held at OSU (2005-current) are in the process of being reviewed, compiled, and prepared for actual digitization. We have had two wonderful interns working on the project with project leaders, Ruth Vondracek & Larry Landis. Jules Filipski, who actually also works part time at OHS in Portland, has extensive background in library work. Our other intern based out of OSU, Erin Stout, has done a great job of picking up where Jules left off in February with the preparation of records for actual digitization. The hope, by June, is that all the records will be digitized from both OHS and OSU and work will begin on the new tool for searching and obtaining the application materials online. Watch future enews editions for updates on this exciting project.
